The Rush Was Only Obeying Explicit Orders to Seize Poachers--An Interview with Walker Blaine.

By Telegraph to The Times.

OTTAWA (Ont.), July 31.—[By the Associated Pred.] The Cabinet meeting yearing the Search of the Seizure of the British vessel by the United States cruiser in Bering Sea. A demand will at once be made on the British Government for two was vessels to proceed to Bering Sea and protect Canadian vessels from United States outlers.

ing schooners that sailed from Victoria heavily armed will be able to protect them-selves, as they started with the intention of not being taken without making a desper-not being taken without making a desperate struggle.

The Minister of Customs has telegraphed to Victoria for a report. As soon as is comes to hand a strong remonstrance will be submitted to the Imperial Government. The report that the Canadian Government had urged the adoption of a retallatory poiley in regard to the seizure of the schooner Black Diamond is also untrue. The Cabinet, after discussing the matter, forwarded the two telegrams from the Victoria Collector to the Governor General with a request that they be forwarded to the colonial office. The Cabinet has also requested that Her Majesty's Government should adopt prompt measure to protect British subjects on the high seas.

British subjects on the high seas.

THE SENTIMENT AT VICTORIA.
VICTORIA (B. C.), July 81.—Indignation is felt here over the selzure of the schooner Black Diamond in Bering Sea by the United States revenue cutter Rush. A public meeting will probably be held and resolutions passed for transmission to the Imperial Parliament, asking that the Imperial Government interfere in behalf of Brish vessels engaged in the scaling trade. It is believed here that if but one man has been placed aboard the Black Diamond her captain will not obey the Rush's orders, and will sail for Victoria instead of Sitks.

WASHINGTON, July SL.—[By the ated Press.] Inquiry at the Department that absolutely no information received there respecting the the last Administration, it was evident the present Administration did not look with disfavor upon the seizure of British or other vessels suspected of posening on United States seal fishing grounds.

The case of seizure and search of the Triumph, afterward released because no sealskins were found, this official intimated, might be a more serious matter than seizure and detention of the Black Diamond, for it involved the right of the United States to seize and search suspected vessels outside of what is conceded to be the limits of jarisdiction of the United States. This government, he said, claims that right within certain limits. But it is not yet acknowledged by England, and the settlement of the question after all is to be one of jurisdiction.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury tonight about the seizure, said: "There will be no child's play about this Administration. The officers of the revenue cutter in Bering Sea have plain and unequivocal orders. They will seize every vessel; American or British, found violating the law. Great Britain claims a right to the fisheries, it is true, but Great Britain is in the eries, it is true, but Great Britain is in the habit of claiming everything. All idea of redress or indemnity, under the circumstances, is absurd. The matter will be treated as a small trespass."

Commissioner of Customs Holliday said: "The only trouble is we have not enough vessels in Bering Sea at present to properly defend the fisheries. No menot-war, I think, are on duty in Bering Sea. If anythink is done by the English Government, it will probably be as an offset to our claim on the Canadian fisheries."

GUARDED WORDS,

Walker Blaine Interviewed on the Situation. BANGOR (Me.), July 31.—[By the Ass clated Press.] Walker Blaine pass through the city this evening.' A report called his attention to the declaration of called his attention to the declaration of a Boston paper today to the effect that it would be impossible for the National Gerernment to sustain the pretension of Secretary Blaine that Bering Sea is distinctly American water. Mr. Blaine remarked that it might be well for the paper in question to indicate the occasion, official or unofficial, where he had said anything at all on that point. Mr. Blaine made the further statement that everything done on the fur-seal question since the 4th of last March was in liberal compliance with the directions contained in the act of Congress approved by President Cleveland on the last day of his term.

The Jac kson-Lees Spat CHICAGO, July 31.—Parson Davies, who arrived today, said concerning the spat between Peter Jackson and Tom Lees, that tween Peter Jackson and Tom Lees, that the trouble was brought about by Lees attempting to leave the combination. Addressing Jackson roughly, he demanded his salary, and Jackson replied that since he (Lees) intended to leave him in the lurch he would make him wait until he got ready to pay him. Lees then called Jackson a foul name. Jackson struck him, and a souffice ensued, but the men were quickly separated.

As regards Jackson's set-to with Lynch, the Buffalo pugliist, the Parson says that Lynch grabbed Jackson's legs to avoid punishment and win on a foul. The police interfering, the referee deciared Jackson the winner.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

In this as in every other locality where known, there are hundreds of persons who are taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. To thos we want to say one word. In nine cases out of that it operates too freely upon the bowels.
We want to call the attention of those to the fact that they are not following the printed instructions and are taking too much of it. If it acts too freely reduce the dose, never taking any more at any time than causes easy and perfect action. Keep this injunction in mind, and take it regularly for a while and do not indulge in too much greasy food, and we will have your testi monial within a fortnight. If taken under the conditions it is an absolute cure for indiger lyspepsia, sick headaches, constination, facdyspepsia, sick headaches, constipation, face eruptions and liver and kidney disorders. It may be asked how it can possibly cure so many allments. But the reason is clear. All those troubses are the legitimate result of improper liver and kidney action or impaired digestive gans. Its effects upon those functions are as stonishing to the medical fraternity as to the consands who are daily taking it.

PASADENA'S CASE.

DR. ROSENBERGER ON TRIAL FOR SELLING WHISKY.

Case, the Much-disliked "Spy," Tells His Story—The Defendant's Account of the Affair—Thought He Was Prescribing for "Colic"—An Acquittal.

The famous Rosenberger Baloon case of Pasadena was called for trial in Department No. 6 of the Superior Court yesterday before Judge McKinley. While it is only a misdemeanor case, on appeal from the Recorder's court in Pasadena, it has attracted wide attention on account of the prindiciples involved.

Dr. S. Rosenberger, a licensed physician, ran a drug store in Pasadena on Fair Oaks avenue. In May last C.
L. Case was employed to collect evidence against places supposed to be selling liquor in violation of the prohibition ordinance in force in Pasadena.
The and and a young man named Blockberger obtained some whisky in Dr. Rosenberger's drug store, and a complaint was made against him, on which he was found guilty by the Recorder. Very bitter feelings were engendered over the affair, and Case was arrested and tried before Justice King at Garvanza, on a charge of being an accessory. This trial was what is known as the "prayer-meeting trial," in which the temperance folks say anything about Dr. Rosenberger though the temperance folks

Very bitter feelings were engendered over the affair, and Case was arrested and tried before Justice King at Garvanza, on a charge of being an accessory. This trial was what is known as the "prayer-meeting trial," in which the temperance folks endeavored to pray and sing in the courtroom, in fact, to open the proceedings with prayer. Case was discharged by the Justice amid great excitement and songs of praise by the citement and songs of praise by the temperance people.

Quite a number of Pasadena people were present yesterday morning when the trial began, and the selection of the jury brought out some amusing answers from jurors. The object of answers from jurors. The object of the defense was to secure jurors not rabid upon the subject of prohibition, and that of the prosecution those who "look not upon the wine when it is red." Several jurors came out flat-footedly for prohibition and the Pasadena ordinance. One juror was in favor of every man drinking what he wants, as long as he does not take too much. Another, when asked what he thinks of prohibition, said he believes it to be "the biggest fool thing every gotten up in the country." Still another did not believe in prohibition, but is opposed to liquor. Another be-

The man has not been tried yet. I saw the man stealing. I am not under a salary. I am under pay. The edity of Pasadena pays me. I haven't got my pay yet. The Marshal authorized me to be a detective. The Marshal did not exactly offer to pay me for working up a case against Dr. Rosenberger, but told me to put in my bill and he would O.K. it if it was right.

Mr. Hester: Didn't he tell you he would yay you $25 for working up case against him. I said Dr. Rosenberger's place was a "aneak" salong. I formed my opinion because he told me I could get a drink there whenever I wanted it. I was there in the afternoon of the 14th, but did not buy any liquor. It was 7 o'clock when I went in again. MAYOR HAZARD POPS UP

Restored and Officer Robe Reprimanded-Routine Business

The Board of Police Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday affore 2 o'clock, Mayor Hazard put in an appearance, smiling and genial as ever and his countenance painted a beautiful red from the effects of his fishing trip to Catalina. His Honor had obtained a ten-day's leave of absence, but owing to the press of city business growing out of the sewer and school bond propositions, had concluded to cut his vacation short, the City Attorney thinking it would be better to have him here in person, as some question might possibly arise if the duties incident to the transactions were performed by a Mayor pro tem. Mr. Collins, the new commissioner, was the first arrival, and cordially shook hands with His Honor, and was almost immediately followed by Chief Glass, who went through with the same process, and the trio fell to discussing matters connected with the force while waiting for the other members, His Honor relieving the dull monotony by telling fish stores. Mr. Dexter next dropped in, the coolest looking one in the party, his regulation police uniform setting off his manly form to fine advantage, presenting a striking contrast to his fellow-commissioner, Mr. Knox, with his highly-polished boots and regulation suit of black who followed him in Mr. Lindney thinking it would be better to polished boots and regulation suit of black, who followed him in. Mr. Lindley was delayed from some cause, and without waiting for him the meeting was called to order, and Clerk Robinson read the minutes, which were duly approved, Mr. Lindley coming in with a rush while the reading was in progress, and dropped into a seat while he mopped the perspiration from his classical brow.

said what's the matter with running these "sneak" saloons out? He didn't say anything about Dr. Rosenberger that night. We went there the following Tuesday. I considered Dr. Rosenberger's a "sneak" saloon. I testified in the court below that I was "bumming" around town that day. Case asked for the "water." I did not notice any other glasses except the graduating glasses. There was one big graduating glasses. There was one big graduating glass and one little one. I did not tell Dr. Rosenberger that I had a bottle. While the Doctor was gone to get the change for the quarter Case threw down I poured some whisky into my bottle.

Chief Glass reported exonorating Officer Vignes from the charges preferred by John Cornell, and recommending that he be restored to duty, which report was concurred in.

In the matter of the houses of prostitution on Sepulveda street, the the defense was Lasecure jurors not rabid upon the stagect of prohibition, and that of the prosecution those who "look not upon the wine when it is fed." Several jurors came out flatfootedly for prohibition and the Pasadena ordinance. One juror was in favor of every man drinking what he wants, as long as he does not take too much. Another, when asked what he thinks of prohibition, said he believes it to be "the biggest fool thing every gotten up in the country." Still another did not believe in prohibition, but is opposed to ilquor. Another believes that prohibition generally would be all right, but thinks that locally it is a failure. Both sides excused about the same number of jurors, and finally secured 12 men, before whom they went to trial. The prosecution was represented by Mr. Briggs, and the defense by M. C. Hester, both from Pasadens. The first witness called was Mr. Case, bitterly called by his enemies, the spy" and "the informer." His testimony was as follows:

"C. L. Case: I live in Pasadena and know Dr. Rosenberger place on the 14th of May twice. Dr. Rosenberger's place is on Fair Caks avenue, between Kansas and Colorado streets. The place is a sneak saloon. The first time I asked him if he was Dr. Truesdaie, the said he was not, and gave me his card. The second time I asked him for some more "water" like I got the said had now oppanion, Blockberger, poured out some whisky, 1 threw down a quarter, and while he was getting some change we poured the whisky into some little bottlies we had. As we were going out the Doctor said:

"Don't bring that young gentleman with you any more, he's too young." You can get a drink here whenever you want it."

"What evidence have you that he owned the place?"

The witness pulled a little bottle out of his pocket, and showed it to the Court. that I gave him the card in the evening, after he came out from behind the counter. Case told me when he came in that he wanted some more of that "water." I did not know what he meant, and asked him. I did not tell him he could come in and get liquor whenever he wanted it. He did not come in after that. I saw Case

On motion of Mr. Lindley, the Chief of Police was instructed to present the police reporters of the daily papers with a copy of the rules and regulations of the department, with their names properly lettered on the back. Carried.

Mr. Knox said that as Mr. Rising did not wish to punish Officer Roberts, but only wanted the public to know that he had been illegally arrested, he therefore moved that he be not suspended, but that instead be repripended, but that instead be repri-manded by the Chief. This was manded by the Chief. This was agreed to.

Mr. Dexter brought up the matter of Thomas's saloon, at the corner of Marchessault and New High streets, where the stabbing affray took place several nights ago. This is the place formerly kept by Nigger Brown, the license for which was revoked some time ago, and Mr. Dexter said that he had had serious doubts about granting the application when it last came up, and had only done so on the personal recommendation of Judge Carpenter. The Judge had since been to see him in regard to the case, and had withdrawn his indorsement. He was therefore in favor of revoking the license, as he thought the place should be suppressed.

rises from Mrs. Miller Also Mys teriously Disappear—A Thousand Dollars' Worth of Jewels to Be

Yesterday morning Justice E. P. King, sitting for Justice Savage, treated the public to a genuine surrise. The case of robbery against Mr. and Mrs. Harris, who were the perpetrators of the panel game on Mrs Miller a few days ago, was called. It had been continued from last week, and the first question to decide was a motion on the part of the defense for a dismissal. The testimony for the former hearing, and the defense had not reached its testimony. In the teeth of the evidence brou the defendants, the acting Justice dismissed the charges against them and discharged them. He said, in doing se that the evidence was not sufficie hold them, and that no jury would conict them on the evidence offered.

The ruling of the Justice is regarded The ruling of the Justice is regarded as a remarkable one by the District Atorney's office, and it was decided that a new complaint, identical with the first, will be filed against the "panelgame" operators in some other court. When the case was continued before, Justice King put the diamonds, amounting to nearly $1000 worth, in an envelope and deposited them with Assistant Chief of Police Biles, who put them in an envelope and placed them in the safe. Yesterday morning after the case was dismissed Justice

He also learned that ex-Chief Burns is in the mountains, and was in a peck of trouble yesterday afternoon about the missing diamonds, which will no doubt turn up all right as soon as the old officers can be reached.

Ex-Police Captain Emil Harris was found last by a Times reporter, and stated that he has no doubt the diamonds will be produced as soon as ex-Chief Burns or Detective Biles can be cemmunicated with. He thinks they were probably placed in some safety deposit vault to insure their safety.

About an hour after Colbeck was brought in Officer Roberts came to the station, bringing with him a wild-eyed young German, who said that his name was Dr. Frussie, who was also locked up for medical treatment. Route Adopted for the G.A.R. Excursions to Milwaukee-Centract Let on the Los Angeles, Glendale and Pasadena Railroad.

A little accident occurred on the Los Angeles and Pacific road near Prospect yesterday afternoon at 1:20 The train that left Santa Monics made its way along the foot-hills until it reached a point near the park, when the engine struck a low joint and jumped the track. The engineer remained at his post, but the an jumped and received slight bruises about the head. The engine turned over on its side, but no damage was done, and none of the cars left the track. The passengers got out ort distance to the and walked a short distance to the Temple-street cable road and came into the city. The atternoon trains were delayed a couple of hours.

Today a new time-card goes into effect on this road. One more train will be put on, making four trains each way daily. The trains will run as follows: From Los Angeles at 9 and 11:30 a.m., and 2:45 and 5:40 p.m.; from Santa Monica at 7:05 and 10:10 a.m., snd 1:10 and 4:20 p.m.

This is a big improvement over the old time, and shows that the company is determined to make things as comfortable as possible for the traveling public.

The G.A.R. Transportation Committee and Department Commander Gard have decided upon the following route to the encampment at Milwaukee: By the Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, returning by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific.

The experiment, however, proved an unfortunate one, and he gradually sank away after his arrival there. He leaves a wife and two small children, now residents of this city. His many friends among the railroad men of this city will regret to hear of this sudden termination of his life.

The contract for the construction of the Los Angeles, Glendale and Pasadena Railroad has been let to Grant Bros., the contractors. The road is to be standard-gauge, and the terminus, for the present, will be at the Downey-avenue bridge. There are about seven miles of road to be constructed, and the contractors say they will have it completed in three months. District Attorney Frank Kelly has accepted the resignation of Maj. J. F. Donnell, Asistant District Attorney, and he will sever his connection with the office today. The Major's resignation has been in the hands of the District Attorney since July 1st. His departure from the office is regretted by a large circle of friends, and he carries with him the best wishes of the officers of the courts in which he has appeared. He will enter the general practice of the law in the city.

Mr. Kelly has also accepted the resignation of G. W. Morgan, Deputy District Attorney at Santa Ana, in the county of Orange, now. Instead of appointing another Assistant District Attorney, Mr. Kelly has made application to the Board of Supervisors to be allowed two deputies to attend to the Justice courts, leaving the present force to attend to the Superior courts and other business. Such a plan will increase the expense of the office only $17, and Mr. Kelly believes will result in the greater efficiency of the service he can render.

BANTA MONICA. The Lopez Case Under Trial-A Bal-

SANTA MONICA, July 31:—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Lopez, who, it will be remembered, disturbed the harmony of a ball at Ballona two weeks ago by clearing out the house with a revolver, was on trial this afternoon before Justice Twichell on a charge of assault to murder. The complaining witness is Francisco Tapia, who was badly hurt during the fray. Don Carlos Cruz of Los Angeles acted as interpreter. J. C. Morgan was counsel for the defense, and Messrs. Shin, Edgerton & Ling and Deputy District Attorney Tanner were for the prosecution. The little courtroom was crowded, for a good deal of interest crowded, for a good deal of interest was being taken in the proceedings. Lopez was finally held to answer in $1500 bail.

Santa Monica will, on Sunday next, witness an attempt by Prof. Van Tassell to break the world's record at jumping from a balloon. The biggest jump so far has been at a height of $500 feet from terra firma, but Van Tassell will, on this occasion, attempt a jump of 10,500. Excursion trains will be run as on last Sunday by the railroads, and another enormous attendance is expected.

The residents here are looking forward to a big barbecue that is to be shortly given below the steps leading from the Los Angeles and Pacific Railroad on North Beach. There will be beeves roasted whole, bulls' heads and all the other accessories to such an affair.

THE WHITE CAPS.

They Must Serve Short Sentences in Jail. Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the San Pedro White Caps met their fate San Pedro White Caps met their fate in Judge McKinley's courtroom. The Pasadena liquor case was postponed for about 15 minutes while the sentencing of the convicted men was accomplished. The proceedings began with a motion far arrest of judgment by Attorney Stephena, which was denied. He then made a motion fer a new trial, asking for it on the ground that the jury had convicted on such doubtful, false and contradictory testimony that the Court should not allow mony that the Court should not allow it to stand. Counsel could not see how the jury could have returned such a verdict in the face of the instructions of the Court. He believed it to be contrary to the law and the evidence.

The motion for a new trial was also denied, and then Mr. Stephens made a plea for a light sentence. He believed the jury would have fixed a lighter degree than assault if it had been possible, and it was a fact that Gus Bremen, who had been tarred and feathered, eminently deserved it.

Judge McKinley stated that he had given the matter grave consideration, mony that the Court should not allow punishment. While he had no sympathy for Bremen, still the defendants had assumed to take the law in their own hands and punish him. The jury had already treated them leniently. He felt that he should impose a punishment that will be a warning. The Court cannot sanction such proceed-

A CASE IN POINT.

A CASE IN POINT.

In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create cruptions by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an enfeebled action of the pores which congest or become pimply. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was concelved. It is wiping the old "blood disease" idea of other sarsaparillas out of existence. A case in point; "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia and tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparillas. It did not help me, but caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potash it contained. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral and might act differently, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared immediately, and I have now after months had no return of the old spells. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face equptions."

In the year 1939, when Los Angeles shall have a population of 1,500,000, or thereabouts, the 250,000 readers of the 24-page DAILY ILLUSTRATED LOS AN GELES TIMES, who will receive it at their breakfast table by electric railroads throughout the country lying between Portland, Or., and El Paso Tex., and by supper time in every hamlet of the North American continent, from Sitka to San Salvador, will undoubtedly read therein extracts from eastern papers, containing abuse of Southern California by dissatisfied Yankee sojourners in the Land of the Afternoon. The mothers of some of these unfortunate splenetic growlers of the future are even now probably trying to keep the mosquitoes off them long enough for them to nurse-no easy job in the torrid July tem perature of the Atlantic Coast After having been nursed through a succession of semi-Arctic win-ters, by the aid of blankets and hot-air registers, and brought to early manhood on such a malevolence breeding diet as pork and beans, pumpkin pie, hot cakes, ice water and root beer, they will be prepared to go through a series of Dakota blizzards and Kansas cyclones, after which they will drift to Southern California, This country won't suit them at all. The sky is too menotonously blue; the men. women and children laugh too loud there is no skating or sleighing; the squashes, and the hams, and the doughnuts, and the coffee, and even the babies do not compare with those "their mothers made" down East. The tenderfoot thereupon sits down to relieve his homesick and dyspeptic yearn ings for the flesh-pots—and doughnuts—of New England by inditing an epistle to his home journal, which that weakly moulder of public opinion is very glad to print, introducing it with some such "send off" as this:

We publish, in this issue of the Bugle, an interesting communication from our esteemed fellow-citizen Jedediah Sqwangs, who, for many years, was the manager and part proprietor of the Huckleberry bakery. He also moved among the best circles of The Corners, but was induced by lying representations of California publishers to the pair with his family to the land of gitterrepresentations of California publishers to repair with his family to the land of glistering shams, where he has been officiating as assistant manager of what he says is known as a "cracker brewery," at Pasadena. It will be noticed that Mr. Sqwangs tears the veil of deceit from the face of that disgraceful fraud, Southern California, and shows it up in its true light. Let this warning be heeded by those of our people who are foolishly talking about emigrating to the so-called "Golden State."

It would take but a few years for Southern California cities to create parks that would outrival those of the world in beauty and attractiveness, in their infinite variety of trees, shrubs and blossoming plants. Los Angeles, if she would set about the mat ter in the right spirit, with generous appropriations, and enterprising and intelligent effort, could in five years have a park whose overshadow ng attractiveness would eclipse even the Golden Gate Park of San Francisco, which is considered by many foreign visitors one of the marvels of this continent, for here we can grow greater variety of trees and almost every variety of plant life. We have points which might be selected where the scenery is unsurpassed for grand eur and for beauty. Points where vast sweeps of landscape are outspread before the eye, combining every feature essential to beauty. Los Angeies wants a grand park as much as she wants the big hotel. In the pride of his military glory, when he had conquered all the world that was known, and a large portion of that which had never otherwise been heard of, Alexander of Macedon was still "stuck on his shape." The slang phrase is advisedly used as, best of all language at our command, expressing his pet folly. It was through this admiration for his own physical perfection that he came to his early death.

When Hercules had successfully performed the "impossible" tasks set for him he acquired a similar admiration for his muscular development; and it was through this frailty that Omphale led him to his downfall.

phale led him to his downfall.

Passing from the Greek and Roman literature to the older and purer records of the Hebrews, the same sad story is found. Samson went down before Delilah because of a mutual admiration for his muscular make up.

Faustina wrecked her empire for her love of a gladiator, and Cleopatra lost Egypt through her admiration for a muscular priest.

It is learned from parties believed to have knowledge that during December last, under Commissioner Black's administration, there were found about 1500 re-issues of pensions, and during the month of May, of pensions, and during the month of May, under Commissioner Tanner's administration, 1800 re-issues. These re-issues cover all classes and include all cases of re-rating, which average from 3 te 5 per ceut. of the whole number of re-issues. It is stated that the re-ratings will probably not average more than $2 to $4 per month, but the arrears in many cases are carried back to the date of the original application, some of them as far as 1865.

THE FISH COMMISSION.

ammary of Its Work During the Past Season.
WASHINGTON, July 31.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States Fish Commission has issued a long report of its operation in the past fiscal year. From it the following figures are taken:

Of brook trout eggs there were 207,000 ent to the different State fish co During the season 168,000 rainbow tro eggs were shipped to various State commissions for planting in suitable waters. Lake trout, to the number of 3,000,000, were distributed during the season, 2,000,000 going to State commissions. Of California salmon fry, 5,000,000 were deposited in the Clackamas River and tributaries; 4,000,000 in the Little Sacramento and tributaries, and 1,500,000 in the McCloud River. In the disposition of Atlantic salmon, New York got 755,000, Landlocked salmon eggs numbering 600,000 were distributed to several State commissions. Washington, July 31.—[By the has issued a circular letter to custors, in which he says:

officers, in which he says:

"The statements of the Consul and documents inclosed indicate a well recognized fact among sellers in China that Amoy Oolongs are generally dirty and adulterated, carelessly picked or poorly cured, and their reputation so viie that all markets asve those of the United States are closed to them. The Consul strongly recommends that no invoices of Amoy Oolong be admitted to the United States without first being rigidly inspected. He further states that the strictures do not apply to Tamsui or Formosa Oelong teas, mostly shipped via Amoy. Your attention is called to this matter in order that strict scrutiny may be unade at your port of all importations of this grade of teas with a view to prevent the admission of any which may be found to be in violation of the act prohibiting the importation of adulterated and spurious teas."

Boulanger Declares That He Is Not Dead Yet.

Sharp Correspondence Between Lord Mayor Sexton and the Brit-ish Postmaster-General Over Harrison's Letter, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, July SI.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Lord Salisbury, speaking at the annual ministerial banquet at the Mansion House, this evening, said that Eng. land's aim in foreign affairs was always "Peace, with honor." The clouds of war still overcast Europe. Concerning the immediate danger of a conflict, he regards the vast preparation that has been made as a great security for peace. Events in Egypt did not menace the permanent prosperity of that country. Disaster on the froatier would be suppressed. England had entered into an engagement not to abandon Egypt until the latter was capable of maintaining her own government in the suppressed. of maintaining her own government in face of foes, and these engagements England of foes, and these engagements England would assuredly fulfil.

Referring to Crete, he said he did not consider that there was need to fear that the present movement would lead to an European disturbance. He repudiated the remotest desire of seeing England in possession of Crete.

Referring briefly to Ireland, he held that the result of the Government's action was bringing order and presperity throughout the country, and if ever any section of peasantry believed their interests lay rather in defying than in obeying law, that linsion was rapidly disappearing.

"What do you mean by saying that the razor is tired?" asked the reporter.

"Just what I said. You may not believe it, but a razor will get tired just the same as a man. After having been used for some time it gets into such a condition that you could not shave the slightest beard with it, but if you will put it aside a few dayor weeks and take it out you will find that it will shave as well as ever. A razor is a queer instrument, and the more you study it the more astonished you will be over its whims. I've seen them so dull that you could not cut any kind of a hair with them, and after letting them remain in a dark drawer three days they would be as sharp as if you had spent 10 hours honing them."

"Yes, sif, that is exactly what I do mean."

"How can a piece of cold steel accomplish such a feat?"

"That is a question that I am not prepared to answer, but it is as true as the gospel truth, and you can verify it by speaking to any old barber. I have often watched through a crack in the farewer to see the razor sharpen itself, but I could never discover anything to indicate how it does the job. They are always as silent as the tomb, but they come out sharp, and that fact allone ought to convince any one that a saror is quite an intelligent instrument. I've met some very queer razors in my time, but I tell you they are almost as intelligent as sliving thing."

Several of the barbers were seen, and they allo confirmed the statement made by the first man.

"Of course," said one cld fellow, "if you draw a razor across a stone and link it all up, you might leave it in your drawer a thousand years and it will not sharpen itself, but if you have with a good razor until it will place several days, you will find that it shaves as good as it ever did. This is the principal reason why barbers keep so you will soon learn that what I tell you will not sharpen itself, but if you will soon learn that what I tell you will not sharpen itself, but if you will soon learn that what I tell you will not sharpen itself, but if you will not sharpen itself, b

Why Dr. Hawkes Declined.

North Carolina probably never produced, says the Washington Post, an abler preacher than Dr. Francis L. Hawkes, who a quarter of a century ago was pastor of Grace Episcopal Church, New York. Short, thick-set, swarthy, black-eyed and black-haired, he was a striking personage. He was not only a great pulpit orator, but considered the best reader in the New York episcopacy. His rather luxurious family deterred him from accepting a bishopric, which would have been otherwise tendered. The spokesman looked rather sheepish, but made mother essay.

"If we had known that fact, sir, we would undoubtedly have looked elsewhere; but you should remember that the work of the Lord must be done, and as providing for your family, you know the story of the ravens."

"Now, my friends," responded the clergyman, quizzically, "I have made the Bible my study ever since I was 28. I have read it through carefully and prayerfully over a hundred times. LAST NIGHT'S MILL.

A PRIZE FIGHT MANAGED BY A MOB, and Marked by Disorder, Partiality land Adopts Walking-match Tac tics, and is Finally Ruled the

The glove contest between George Mulholland of Australia and Billy Mehan of San Francisco was brought to a conclusion last night at the rooms of the Southern California Athletic

The club is supposed to be strictly impartial, and to guarantee absolute fairness to any and every combatant entering the ring under its auspices. A specimen thereof will be gathered from the following detailed account:

Round 1-As the men stepped into the ring it was apparent that Mehan had the advantage in height and reach

The referee replied that be was running the fight, and as he had disallowed three palpable fouls, it seemed as if he was. The audience, however, seemed in sympathy with him and Mehan, and the favoritism displayed has given pugilism a black eye in Los Angeles from which it may never recover. From this to the thirty-eighth round, the club was a perfect pandemonium, and the Australian was a doomed man. Every taunt in the vocabulary was cast upon taunt in the vocabulary was cast upor him.

In the thirty-eighth round both men wrestled and fell, and in a few moments repeated the performance. The last time Mulholland remained on the floor, and, before "time" was called, the spectators broke into the ring, and carried Mehan away in triumph. At the expiration of eight seconds, Mulholland rose and wished to continue, but his seconds threw up the sponge, and the referee declared Mehan the winner.

The concert and reception at Woos-The concert and reception at Wooster Hall, given last evening, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, was fairly attended and largely appreciated. Everything from beginning to end went off smoothly, many of the performers responding to encores. It was all home talent, the programme being under the supervision of Mrs. Riggins. Among those who assisted were the Riggins children, Miss See Kramer, Miss Werner, Mr. Moorehead and Mr. Cate. The ladies of the auxiliary corps served ladies of the auxiliary corps served cream after the concert part was con-cluded.

A WAREHOUSE ROBBED. Early this morning thieves broke into the Union warehouse in Pasadena. Into the Union warehouse in Pasadena. They blew the door open, but failed to get anything, although there was considerable money in the safe. It is believed that they were frightened off before they had finished the job. They broke into the cash drawer and got away with a few stamps and paper of no value. It is supposed that the thieves are acquainted with the premises. The officers are on the track of the burglars, and think they will catch them.

in those things which concern the public welfare no one will question or deny. That this duty is very often neglected is equally evident.

Will you then, sir, grant me a small space in your columns for the purpose of stating a few facts and calling attention to what I consider one of the most important questions that concern our community? I refer to the management of our public schools. I choose your paper as a medium of communicating with the public because it is extensively circulated and read by our people.

Permit me to say at the outset that I shall avoid all personalities so far as a fair statement of facts and discussion of principles will permit, for in this of principles will permit, for in this matter I have no friends to favor, no foes to punish.

The San Pascual school district, as originally constituted, embracing as it did the present city of Pasadena, was the largest and most importone of the largest and most import-ant districts in Los Angeles county. It is no empty boast to say that it con-tains a population second to none on this coast.

tains a population second to none on this coast.

This district, up to within a few weeks, has gone under the name of San Pascual. All appropriations of public school money, if I am not misinformed, have been in that name. The district has been under the control of three trustees, presumably chosen by the people. These trustees have issued and sold school bonds, employed school teachers and transacted all other business appropriate to the functions of a board of school frustees. Thus affairs have gone on lory ears.

But during the past few months some of the patrons of our schools were not managed as they could be managed. No reflection was school were not managed as they could be managed. No reflection was supposed to the sentence of Thomas and two firms are not one of the patrons of our schools were not managed as they could be managed. No reflection was supposed to the sentence of Thomas and the sentence of the sentence of the sentence of the senten cast upon the honesty and integrity of the board of trustees as a body or as individuals. But the impression got abroad that the management of the schools was left almost solely to one man. viz., the superintendent. The locating and building of schoolhouses, the purchasing of furniture, the employing and dismissing of teachers were supposed to be left largely, if not altogether, to him. I do not state these things as facts, but simply as impressions which have gotten abroad. In order that one might know whether or no these impressions were correct, and if correct the abuses might be corrected, it was thought best by some to make a change in the board of directors or trustees. This move seems to have been resented by some as an impertinence. The movement was characterized as that of a few upstarts' move or back-alley politicians. That was the idea—the phraseology is immaterial.

In looking around for a man to represent this upstart element, Prof. Holder was fixed upon—a man of scholarship, integrity and large acquaintance with educational matters. His opponent was a man of high standing as a citizen, both socially and in business matters. There never was a more hotly-contested election—never a more full and fair expression of public opinion. The result showed that more than two-thirds of the legal voters were in favor of the new departure. The figures were 565 to 250. Immediately on the result of the election being made known, the defeated party discovered that everything was illegal. The eld board was illegal, and all their acts, even the issue of the school bonds. The illegality came about in this wise: Pasadena, in becoming an incorporated city, thereby became a distinct and separate school district, la this state of affairs the power and wisdom of the County Superintendent of Schools was invoked. He was asked, by statute made and provided, to give us by appointment a legal board for each of the districts. This he did magnanimously, appointing Prof. Holder, who had been elected by two-thirds and more ready to

This beautiful book is the most practical work of the kind that has ever been printed and will be warmly welcomed by our readers. Its author has had a long and extended ex-perience in artistic needlework, and in this volume she has carefully set forth the results of her study and labor in this fascinating department of art.

She has illustrated her work by means of COLORED PLATES, each one of which is made directly from the piece of embroidery which it represents. On one page of the book she shows an outline pattern of the leaves, and on the opposite page is a ceantiful COLORED PLATE showing the pattern as it appears after it has been properly worked. This plate shows the exact colors that were used in doing the work, and the outline pat-tern is lettered and numbered, and the author gives full directions for working the colors.

HISTORICAL MILESTONES SET UP ON THIS DATE.

A Pagan Festival—Cosmo de Medici -Old Fort Stephens inces-A New Order of Knight hood in France.

The 1st of August was one of the four great pagan festivals of the early Britons, the others being the 1st days of February, May and November. It was a celebration of the harvest, and; was a celebration of the narvest, and, as such, was adopted into the ceremonies of the Christian Church. From a loaf being presented at church as an offering, the day was called Alaf-mas, which was shortened into Lammas, by which designation the day is still known in the ecclesiastical calendar.

One of the most familiar family names in history is that of De Medici, which during the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries enjoyed an European reputation. The founder of this celebrated family was Cosmo de Medici, who died August 1, 1464. He was merely a gentleman of the ordinary class, who had acquired great wealth in trade, by which he was enabled to enrich his native city of Florence with magnificent buildings, and to call thither the Greek scholars who had been driven out of Constantinople by the conquests of the Turks. For 30 years his counsels were the law of the Republic, and his benefaction to the city gained him the honorable title of the father of his country.

LORD CORNWALLIS MOVED. One of the most familiar family

LORD CORNWALLIS MOVED On August 1st, 1781, Lord Cornwallis, in ebedience to orders to take up a strong position easily defended, moved his troops from Portsmouth to Yorktown and Gloucester, where he threw up redoubts. It was here that he was to surrender his whole army in the following October. OLD FORT STEPHENSON.

Lower Sandusky, now Fremont, O., in 1813 was a regular earthwork, surrounded by a ditch with bastions and blockhouses, which was called Fort Stephenson. The place was held by 160 regulars under the command of Maj. George Croghan, then only 21 years of age. Gen. Proctor finding Fort Meigs too strong for attack, conveyed his troops to Fort Stephenson by water, while the Indians marched through the heavy woods. Croghan had been advised to withdraw, but he resolved to remain.
The British arrived on July 31st, and Tecumseh meanwhile guarded the approaches through the woods with 2000 Indians. The summons to surrender, accompanied with the usual threat, of massacre in the event of refusal wreceived with defiance. The British guns opened on the fort in the evening, and the bombardment was continued throughout the night without effect.
The solitary six-pounder of the garrison, which was moved about frequently to give the appearance of there being a number of them, replied at intervals.
At length the enemy dragged three six-pounders to a higher point than the fort, but even then the fire was ineffective. At 5 p.m. of August 1st, Proctor sent forward a storming column to make the assault, while a body of grenadiers made a detour through the woods as a felnt. A violant thurderstorn was coming up, and under cover of the cannon the enemy were not perceived until they were within 15 or 20 paces of the pickets. The Kentucky sharpshooters composing the garrison poured in a deadily volley, which caused the column to break, but the men rallied and leaped into the dich to assail the pickets. "Give the d—d Yankees no quarter!" cried the British officer, as the six-pounder charged with slugs and grape opened on the column with terrible effectiveness. The officer was killed, and Lieut. Gordon, who led the second column, which was likewise decimated, was also slain.
The British lost 120 killed and wounded, while only one of Croghan's men was killed and several wounded.
For this gallant defense of Lower Sandusky Maj. Cr Lower Sandusky, now Frem O., in 1813 was a regular earthwork, EMANCIPATION OF BRITISH SLAVES. Just as January 1st is the anniversary of American emancipation of slavery, today is the anniversary of the emancipation of slaves in the British colonies, which occured August I, 1884n; The slaves were assigned however, not to actual freedom, but to a so-called apprenticeship which was to precede and prepare for freedom. A bill for this purpose had been brought forward in 1830, and again in 1832, but was not passed until 1833. It provided that on the 1st of August, 1834, all slaves should become apprenticed laborers to their masters in two classes; that in 1838 and 1840 respectively, these two classes should receive their actual freedom, that twenty million pounds should ultimately be paid to the masters, who would then lose the services of their slaves; and that this sum should be distributed ratably, according to the market value of alaves in the years 1823, 1830. It was found on a careful analysis, that on the 1stof August, 1834, there were 770,280 slaves in the colonies affected by the emancipation act. sary of American emancipation of slavery, today is the anniversary of the pation act.

A NEW ORDER OF KNIGHTHOOD. A NEW ORDER OF KNIGHTHOOD.

When Louis XI. decided that it was escessary to have a new order of knighthood in France he reflected that it was easier to create a new order than to revive the luster of an eld one. At that time there was no being held in higher esteem than the Archangel Michael, who, it was believed, had fought visibly for the French at Orleans. The superstitious Louis probably worshiped Michael on this account, and he accordingly chose for his new order the name of St. Michael, which was instituted on August 1, 1469. The knights, 36 in number, all men of rank, could only be degraded for three crimes, heresy, treason and cowardice.

The friends and associates of Baptiste Garnier, the French "mac" recently sentenced by Judge Stanton to $100 fine, or 100 days' imprisonment, for attempting to bribe a policeman, yesterday came forward and paid his fine, which amounted to $93, Garnier having worked seven days on the chain gang. He was released last evening.

Harrison, the Fort-street druggist, arrested by Officer Bevan a day or two ago, for violation of the saloon license, was yesterday fined $10 by Judge Owens. Harrison pleaded guilty to the charge, but stated that his clerk was to blame, as he had sold the liquor. The officers on the beat were told that it was customary for the drug store to sell liquor by the glass, and set a trap for the offenders, into which they fell. Phil Traube, who assaulted Johnnie Coburn, the railroad man, at the Santa Fé saloon, on First street, with a demijohn, Saturday night, smashing him over thehead and cutting an artery, from which he almost bled to death, was arrested by Officer Sneets yesterday morning, and taken to the station, where he was locked up. Coburn, the injured man, continues to improve, and will be all right in the course of a few days.

The Occidental University of Los will be all right in the course of a few days.

The Occidental University of Los Angeles, the outgrowth of McPherron Academy, has issued a neat catalogue for 1889-1890. The institution has grown under the able management of Prof. J. M. McPherron, who is still in charge, until it occupies a wide field of usefulness. The catalogue gives a complete statement of the information necessary to those contemplating making use of its advantages, including a description of the university, its courses of study and charges.

A complaint was issued by the District Attorney yesterday against the proprietor of the Louvre saloon, on North Main street, near First street, who is mentioned as John Doe. He is charged by Otto Rosentreter with disturbing the peace. The complainant alleges that he has a lease on the premises, and the defendant, who had put up some partitions in the saloon, attempted to remove them in the night. He stopped him, and a row ensued, which resulted in the charge made.

The Roard of Equalization vesterday made.

The Board of Equalization yesterday raised Mr. Frankenfield's assessment on his 35-foot St. Vincent College lot to $90 per foot to make it uniform with the others. Mr. Frankenfield, in speaking of Mr. Breed's remarks, said that if that gentleman meant what he said, and would fix up a deed, he would find pretty quick whether he thought the Alameda-street property was more valuable than that which he held on Fort street. Mr. Frankenfield also said that his corner of the St. Vincent property was the highest of any rty was the highest of a cent property was the highest of any in the block, having been put at $125 per foot.

per foot.

J. B. Desery, arrested on Monday for throwing dead chickens into the street, was yesterday brought before Judge Owens and fined $5. Desery set up in his defense that he had been greatly annoyed by his neighbor's chickens getting into his yard and scratching up his flowers. He had complained at the police station, and had been told that he could protect himself by poisoning the chickens, shooting them or getting rid of them in any way that he saw fit. He had taken this advice, and had thrown the carcasses out into the street, as he thought he had a right to do. The Court, however, could not see the matter in this light, and Deserty was accordingly cinched.

LOS ANGELES, August 1, 1889.

We promised you several days ago to tell about our method by which we are able to sell a great many goods below cost, some at cost, and a few a little above cost. Now, suppose two buyers walk into a mill: one says: "I want to buy 100 dozen of hose, on-oredit." The owner figures we as follows: Loss of interest, 2 per cent.; risk of failure, 5 per cent.; risk of delay; 1 per cent.; total, 8 per cent.; risk of delay; 1 per cent.; total, 8 per cent.; or 8c on the dollar. The owner says: "I will sell at $1 per dozen, net." The People's Store buyer says: "With our big cash trade we can use 500 dozen, and will pay spot cash before delivery; what is your price?" "Nintety-two cents per dozen." Now our buyer may be aware that in reality we can use only 100 dozen, yet he takes 500 dozen at 29c, which is $400, and instructs us to sell

Chronic Bronchitis.

Chronic Bronchitis.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membrane of bronchial tubes. But this form more often occurs tater in life. When a cold settles on the lungs, the disease either ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold in the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucous, followed by a hectic flush, loss of fiesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs, or chronic bronchitis.

In the latter stages of the disease the mucous when the major tronchial tube softens with a major tronchial tube comes congested and inflamed. There are no eavities or tubercles in the lungs, but merely wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucous which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentime streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucous, and attimes there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are very liable to take cold, at which time the mucous and attimes there is a disagreeable smell.
